School Shoes

ought to be good and strong. They ought to keep the boys and girls feet dry. The finest leather isn't best for this purpose. As a general thing, fine leather is not strong. The best footwear I know anything about for this purpose is Waverly School Shoes.

They are made out of Puritan Calfskin. This leather is soft, pliable and durable. The shoe affords the wearer plenty of comfort. They have good wearing qualities. They keep out the wet.

This is the only store in Bangor where you can buy Waverly School Shoes. I control the sale of them in this city. I carry them in sizes for ladies, misses, children, boys and youths.

They cost a little more than shoddy shoes, but they pay best in the end

All consuls have telegraphed their governments asking that war ships be at once despatched

The British fleet at Malta sailed for Canea yesterday

The governor of the island is utterly powerless to restrain the soldiery as he is on bad terms with the military governor, who is suspected of being at the bottom of the whole trouble

The immediate cause of the disturbance in Canea is unknown

The despatch adds that the situation at Retimo is equally serious

EMBEZZLEMENT CASE

Hearing in Case of Murphy at Salem on Monday

SALEM Mass, May 25 Judge Sherman to-day took charge of the superior criminal court in the absence of Judge Lilley, who is still unable to hold court owing to sickness.

The announcement that the trial of Clarence Murphy, charged with embezzlement and larceny of $47,000 from the Salem Savings Bank, of which he was receiving teller in 1893, would be called to day drew a large crowd to the court room

When arraigned at the January term, Murphy pleaded not guilty to a voluminous indictment containing 120 counts, 65 being for embezzlement and 64 covering the same dates and charging larceny and another indictment charging the larceny of $500 on the date of his flight Since then another indictment has been procured covering the same ground and charging larceny to prevent any technical defect

Murphy appeared in court this morning neatly dressed and although a trifle pale he looked cool and self possessed

District Attorney White conducted the case for the government and Messrs. Northend and Hurlburt for the defense There was a consultation between the courts and counsel after which Mr Hurlburt filed a motion to quash the first 65 counts the three principal points First that they did not set forth any offences, second that they were not drawn under any statute applicable to the offence described therein and third that the Salem Savings Bank was not an incorporated bank within the meaning of the law He claimed that the bank was the institution and that the allegation of larceny should have been from the banking house, the building, rather than from the association

As to the remainder of the counts the ground of objection was that they did not set forth the capacity in which Murphy was employed in the bank and in which the money came into his possession

District Attorney White replied that this indictment had been drawn after a careful study of the case of the commonwealth vs Pratt, which had been quoted in support of the motion, and submitted that the allegations were sufficiently clear

Mr Hurlburt for the defence stated that if the allegation of servant, agent, etc, of the corporation was sufficient, it might be possible under this to try a washerwoman who might be employed to clean the floor under a charge of embezzlement.

Judge Sherman then said that for the present he would overrule the motion, reserving the right to look into it further

He then stated that owing to newspaper comment on the case he thought it proper to explain to the jury the rule as to the disqualification of jurors by reason of bias Newspapers had a right to publish the statement that a case was to come to trial and also to give a fair and impartial account of the proceedings, but they had no right to express opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the accused

He then read the statutory questions to the jury, "If the articles which had been published had formed such an impression on your mind that you cannot fairly do justice between the commonwealth and the prisoner you are disqualified and should make it known."

The jury was then impanelled.

IN CONGRESS.

Mr. Butler Attempts to Press his Bond Bill.

Senate Discussed the Deficiency Appropriation Bill Monday.

Private Claims Being Tucked on—Other Matters of Interest.

WASHINGTON, May 25 At the close of the morning business Mr Hale, of Maine, moved to proceed to the consideration of the deficiency bill, the last of the general appropriation bills

Mr Butler (Pop, N C) suggested that several of the Senators desired to speak on the bond bill and that as he wished to have the vote upon it taken before adjournment that bill should be taken up immediately, rather than at 2 o'clock when it would come up as the unfinished business

Mr Chandler (Rep, N H) said it would be impossible to get a vote on the bond bill today There were many Senators, about many of whom the Senator from North Carolina did not know, who desired to address the Senate on that bill

Mr Butler remarked that the quicker the Senate took up the bond bill the better

"No," Mr Chandler broke in, "the worse, because it ought not to pass at all while it is necessary to press the appropriation bills

The deficiency bill was then taken up

At 2 P. M the prohibitory bond bill came up as the unfinished business An appeal was made to Mr Butler, the author of the bill, to let it go over until the appropriation bill was finished, but was refused by Mr Butler and then efforts were made to have an hour fixed on Wednesday or Thursday next for taking a vote on the bond bill

Objection was made by Mr Palmer who stated that no such agreement could be made Finally unanimous consent was given that the deficiency bill be proceeded with

In discussion of the deficiency bill an amendment to pay $2,500 to Mr Dupont for counsel fees, time and expenses in prosecuting his right to a seat in the Senate and $2 500 to three counsel engaged in opposition to him was offered and agreed to Several amendments for claims due having been offered by Mr Cockrell (Dem, Mo) it was suggested by Mr Chandler humorously that Mr Cockrell's object was to load down the bill with private claims to make it odious and cause all of them to be thrown out in conference

Mr Cockrell resented the insinuation Mr Chandler twitted Mr Cockrell with having shown a want of temper Mr Cockrell retorted that the Senator from New Hampshire was showing a want of balance and resentful feeling

Finally the bill was passed

The conference report on the sundry civil bill appropriation bill was presented and ordered printed

The Senate adjourned

In the House

The House took up the free alcohol repeal bill

Without disposing of the bill the committee arose The report of Elections Committee No 3 on the contested case of Martin (Pop) vs Lockhart (Dem) from the 6th district of North Carolina was presented and ordered printed The House then adjourned

Spanish Troops Slaughtered.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 25 Advices have reached here from a reliable source in Cuba to the effect that a strong body of Spanish troops recently made a second attempt to invade Cubitas, the seat of the Cuban government They were ambushed in the mountain fastnesses and sustained a crushing defeat

The Spaniards were literally slaughtered by the insurgents and the force was compelled to flee in disorder, abandoning their equipments on the field

The advices further show that a filibustering expedition, having large quantities of munitions of war, landed eastward of Santiago de Cuba.

The Sugar Bounty

The Supreme Court of the United States has undoubtedly incurred the ill-will of Mr Bowler the bumptious individual now serving as Comptroller of the Treasury. Bowler is a unique character in this unique Administration With the possible exception of Cleveland he is in his own judgment at least, the most important part of the Government Congress has no rights that Bowler feels called upon to respect. When Congress passes a law if it does not have the approval of Bowler he at once pronounces it unconstitutional and calmly ignores it Whether he will now dismiss the Supreme Court remains to be seen

For some time past the sugar bounty granted by the last Republican tariff law as a means of encouraging the production of sugar in this country has been a bone of contention After the Democratic tariff law began to get in its deadly work and the Treasury was started on the road to bankruptcy, the Administration immediately canvassed the situation to see what could be done to keep the deficit at as low a figure as possible. The Government was owing the sugar growers about $5,000 000 and Congress passed an appropriation to effect a settlement But right here Bowler saw his opportunity and at once improved it by declaring that the law providing for the payment of bounties was in direct violation of the constitution and declined to authorize the settlement of the accounts The President and Secretary of the Treasury were appealed to, but refused to interfere Bowler was supreme for the time being and Cleveland and Carlisle needed that $5 000,000 hence the sugar men who had accepted the action of Congress in good faith were coolly informed that they could not have the money voted them

Finding it useless to contest the matter in the department the sugar men went to the courts The decree of the Supreme Court has just been handed down It reverses Bowler and holds that Congress was fully authorized to provide for the payment of the bounty Under this decision, of course, the sugar men will have to be paid and the Democratic deficit will be swelled just $5 000-000 and the end is not yet reached

Free Trade Error

The Boston Advertiser says According to the "tariff reform" reports of the recent address of Hon J E Russell at the dinner of the New England Free Trade League, the distinguished orator stated that "the panic of 1857 was not caused by the tariff reduction of that year, and no one at that time thought of attributing it to the tariff change that had just been made," that, indeed, "there was not a protectionist left in public life except Henry Carey and Horace Greely, and those two men were the joint authors of most of the mistakes that have been made by the writers and speakers concerning the panic of 1857" Mr Russell has a particular joyous way of spreading practically exclusive information abroad through the country. The present instance is one in point.

Amid all the 70,000,000 people in this country today there are perhaps 50 or 100, including Mr. Russell, who believe that the tariff of 1857 had nothing to do with the panic which followed that tariff. Mr. Russel is too generous to keep his belief entirely to himself. In an openhearted and ingenuous manner he has proceeded to give it to the public for what it is worth. It remains true, however, that most of the people who lived in this country in the year 1857 were not of Mr. Russell's present way of thinking. On the contrary, they expressed themselves to an entirely different effect.

Within the past few years the Advertiser has quoted columns of statements taken from the literature in this country, published at or about the time of the panic of 1857. These included the utterances by Boston papers and by Massachusetts statesmen, expressly laying the blame for the panic of 1857 and the currency conditions upon the tariff law of 1857, and demanding the repeal of that law, as a self-evident preliminary to prosperity. The sentiment of New England was well expressed, however, in Congress by the elaborate speech made by Mr. Durfee, the representative from Rhode Island.

Mr. Durfee was at that time recognized as one of the foremost New England members who were entitled to speak with authority on industrial questions; and in this matter he spoke, as he himself stated, in behalf of New England "manufactures, trade and commerce," and of a constituency "whose industrial pursuits have been stricken as with paralysis and now languish in almost hopeless depression for the want of aid and sustainment, which they are entitled to." The Representative from Rhode Island made a speech which at that time attracted general attention, but which Mr. Russell at present seems to have overlooked, as he has overlooked many other similar utterances, which were made on the part of New England during the depression of 1857

In behalf of New England manufacturers, Mr Durfee declared that under the tariff of 1846, as subsequently amended, "the doctrine of free trade became permanently incorporated into the articles of the Democratic faith, since which time protection is thought unconstitutional and heterodox, free trade constitutional and orthodox" Mr. Durfee added that the country has now had ample experience of the operation of both systems, of the American system which seeks to protect our own labor and manufactures against the injurious competition of foreign labor, and of the low-duty system which discriminates against our own products and in favor of foreign goods, which encourages large importations of foreign merchandise to the utter ruin of our capitalists' and operatives."

Mr Durfee also added, that "if any one desires to know the effect of the two tariff systems, let him look at the condition of the United States under the operation of the tariff of 1842, and then at our present condition under the operation of the tariff of 1846, as amended by subsequent acts" This speech was made at the time when, as Mr. Russell now informs a credulous audience, nobody in New England thought of describing the distress to tariff condition Yet one of the foremost representatives of New England mill industries expressly declared in Congress, that in his opinion and that of his constituents, there was no question that the great depression and distress of the country were due to the tariff conditions. Many Congressmen echoed his views

At that time of course Congress was controlled by Democratic influence, and it was recognized as almost hopeless to plead for any tariff change But Mr Durfee declared that, although the President had informed Congress that the trouble was with the banks, and the banks had entirely changed their methods as the doctrines advised, the conditions of which the country complained were still in evidence and he asked, How can it be expected that the American manufacturer would again put his spindles and looms in operation, when he had to meet the competition in the markets of his country of goods which were undervalued one third, one half, or even two thirds?

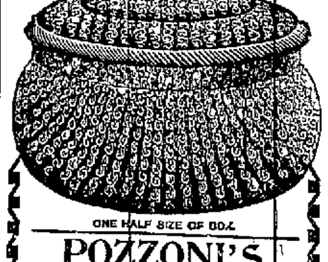

The speech was made almost exactly 38 years ago, or on May 21 1858 It was on May 21 1896, that Mr Russell suddenly announced his discovery, that nobody in New England after the panic of 1857 thought of ascribing that panic to the tariff law of that year Possibly, Mr Russell's memory regarding events of that period is not so accurate as he imagines it to be Certainly, his statements are not at all sustained by the contemporary history of that panic as found in congressional debates, in political addresses, in business reports and newspaper comments of that day

Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A man is hardly himself until he has the development that responsibility brings After the child comes, the father and mother both plan and promise what shall be done with it. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children—as well expect figs from thistles Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice It is healing, soothing, strengthening It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child

CARD

Having decided to make a RADICAL CHANGE in this department, we propose to do it with the LEAST POSSIBLE DELAY, and consequently have gone through our entire stock on this floor and marked every piece of goods at a price that will accomplish that end with the QUICKEST POSSIBLE DISPATCH. IN WALL STREET

Business Reduced by Holiday Abroad

The decline in the first half hour ranged from ¼ to ½ per cent outside of tobacco which lost a point selling down to 60½. Metropolitan traction was decidedly stronger and rose to 110

FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Ex-Disbursing Officer of State Department Arrested

New York, May 25.—A Washington special says that Francis J. Kleckhoefer was arrested on the charge of embezzling government funds, while he occupied the position of disbursing officer of the department of state. The arrest was made on three warrants sworn out by Edward I. Renick, chief clerk of the department of state which charged that Kleckhoefer embezzled $37,466 The ex-disbursing officer was taken at once to police headquarters He was unable to obtain bail and was removed to police station where he was locked up

The amount which it is charged that Kleckhoefer has embezzled is not as large as the shortage discovered by the expert accountants in the state department's accounts during his term of office.

AWFUL CRIME.

Man, Wife and Child Badly Cut with an Axe.

A Negro Suspected of the Deed—Armed Men in Pursuit.

WASHINGTON, May 25. The police inspector this morning received a telegram from Gaithersburg, Md., twenty miles west of this city, requesting him to keep a lookout for a tough looking negro, who committed murder there about 3 o'clock this morning. The house of R. L. Buxton, a white man, was entered at an early hour by a negro and Buxton, his wife and child were badly cut up with an axe. The man suspected is Grant Allen who nine years ago was sentenced to the penitentiary for criminal assault. He was released about a month ago, and has been hanging about the village. Buxton was the principal witness against him in the case, and Allen at the time swore vengeance.

A later report states that Mrs. Buxton and the child are dead. Excitement runs high and bodies of armed men are scouring the country for the fiend.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, May 25. The House Invalid Pensions committee to-day agreed to a report recommending that the House pass over the President's veto the bill to pension Lydia A. Taft.

STEAMER BELGRAVIA.

Believed that She will be Floated with but Little Damage.

St. John, N. B., May 25. Capt. Fisk, of the Anchor Line with diver Henry went yesterday in a tug to inspect the steamer Belgravia, which is on the rocks near Black Point. They returned last evening and Henry made a written report that so far as he could discover the steamer has only one or two serious holes in her bottom, but as she was aground there may be others. The work of discharging her cargo was pushed along all day. The superintending engineer thinks the ship can be floated when lightered. The Merritt wrecking company will undertake to float the steamer and it is believed she will not suffer much damage.

Capt. Laird refuses to allow newspaper men on board and a strict watch is kept to carry out his orders. Therefore no explanation can be obtained as to how the steamer came to vary so much from her course and go ashore. The course steered by the steamer when she went ashore was directly opposite to that of a vessel bound for Liverpool.

BARK AMERICA.

Eight of her Crew Landed at New York.

NEW YORK, May 25. The Clyde Line steamer New York, which arrived early this morning from San Domingo, brought the mate and six of the crew of the bark America which stranded on Catalanita Island, San Domingo, on May 6, while bound from New York for Macoris in ballast. The bark struck during the night, owing to the strong current and light wind. She is a total loss. Capt. Armstrong remained in Macoris to look after the interests of the owners. The America was built at Madison Conn., in 1877. She was 337 tons.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Reported that President will Veto the Measure.

WASHINGTON, May 25. President Cleveland had a conference to-day with General Craighill, Chief of Engineers, about the River and Harbor bill which was received at the White House Saturday. It is reported on excellent authority that the President has already expressed an intention to veto the measure and the trend of opinion as to his views is in that direction. Whether or not he will veto it, one thing seems certain, namely, that he will not sign the act. If he decides to let it go on the statute books he will allow it to become a law without his signature under the constitutional limitations.

THE SUGAR BOUNTY.

Decision of Supreme Court Favorable to Payment.

WASHINGTON, May 25. The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States this morning was favorable to the payment of the sugar bounty.

The decision was very brief. The court simply said that it was an equitable consideration, for which Congress had authority to provide. This reverses the ruling of the Comptroller of the Treasury and requires the payment of the bounty provided for by the last Congress.

MILWAUKEE STRIKE.

Merchants and Manufacturers' Association Declares "A Reign of Terror."

Milwaukee, Wis., May 25. The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of this city has passed resolutions declaring that the people of this city are under "a reign of terror unlike anything in our history," and the mayor has issued a proclamation urging all persons to aid in restoring former conditions.

The Milwaukee Street Railway Co. ran cars yesterday for the first Sunday since the strike, twenty-four days ago, but in spite of the resolutions of the merchants association and the official appeal from the mayor, most of the inhabitants of this city shunned the cars as if they were pest houses on wheels.

Busses and express wagons, fitted up with seats, trucks with cotton awnings, and all manner of conveyances were pressed into service. A standard five-cent fare was charged and these vehicles were packed until there was not even standing room. The Liberal Club last night passed resolutions denouncing The Merchants and Manufacturers Association, charging it with attempting to bring about a condition of disorder. Last night several motormen and a policeman were struck with stones and had to be removed to hospitals.

A large mob of Poles gathered at Lee and Bremen streets and attacked the cars and officers. Policeman Kruz was stabbed and seven arrests were made. Several cars were pelted with bottles containing blue vitriol and muriatic acid, and the clothing of the few passengers who rode on them was ruined. There were many arrests throughout the city.

RESTING COMFORTABLY.

Supt. John C. Sanborn and the electrician, Col. H. Eff, had charge. It is said this will do away with the overhead trolley wire and the system will at once be put in as far as East Weymouth and later through to Boston. The Nantasket branch is at present equipped with the overhead system and the work of replacing it with the third rail will be at once begun.

IS SHE A FILIBUSTER?

Steamer City of Richmond Steals Away from Baltimore and is Expected to Stop at Norfolk for Arms.

A Baltimore despatch makes the following statement regarding a steamer well known here: The side-wheel steamer City of Richmond, which came from New London, Conn. several weeks ago and was thoroughly overhauled and refitted, slipped away from her dock at two o'clock Saturday morning without any previously announced intention of sailing. She was under suspicion as being intended to engage in filibustering, and a report reached here from Norfolk that she was expected to call there for a cargo of arms, ammunition and explosives. Her sudden departure has strengthened the belief that she is under charter to the Cuban insurgents.

It was given out later in the day that the steamer has sailed for Jacksonville and that she will be used by the Florida East Coast Line to run between Key West and Miami, Fla. While this statement may be true, it is thought by many mariners and shippers that she will call somewhere on her way down the coast and load war material, which will be delivered to a filibustering vessel in Florida waters.

The City of Richmond is a swift steamer, capable of making 17 miles an hour, and is seaworthy. Her tonnage is 940 gross, 600 net, and her dimensions are: Length, 227 feet; breadth of beam, 30 feet; depth of hold, 10 feet. She was built at Athens, N. Y., in 1865, and has engines of 350 horse-power.

The Spanish Consul at Norfolk received information that the City of Richmond was to call there to load her contraband cargo, and, together with Collector of Customs Shields, he is keeping watch for her.

MAINE MELANGE.

Alonzo S. Cobb and Nellie A. Morse, of Wakefield, Mass., were arrested at Portland Saturday night. Cobb was charged with deserting his family.

Hancock.

Deer Isle Gazette: The home of Capt. and Mrs. L. J. Sargent was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Effie Reed, was united in marriage to Albert Currier Parker. The ceremony was performed in a simple but very impressive manner by Rev. E. S. Drew. The bride is one of Sargentville's most popular school teachers. The groom one of our ambitious and rising young men, who has been in the employ of the B. & M. Railroad for the past three years. The ushers were Messrs. Howard Grindle, Percy, Arthur and Fred Sargent; lady in waiting, Angie L. Spooner. The couple left Monday on steamer Frank Jones for Marblehead where they will make their home for the present, carrying with them the good wishes of their many friends.

Oxford.

The longest May term of the Oxford Supreme Court closed Saturday. Many important civil cases were disposed of.

Somerset.

At the hearing before Judge Strout, at Skowhegan, in the case of the Maine Central Railroad Company vs. Waterville & Fairfield Railroad and Light Company, the position of the electric road was clearly shown by the requests made by that company, which were denied by the justice. The decision of the board of railroad commissioners was affirmed. Exceptions were made the Railway Company, and the action will go to the law court at once. The Railway and Light Company claimed that it is the duty of the railroad commissioners to determine how crossing frogs shall be constructed and maintained where one railroad of any kind crosses another, and that it is illegal and unconstitutional for the commissioners to require that the whole expense of such frogs be borne wholly by the electric road.

Washington.

The work of excavating for the water system at Machias was started Tuesday morning, the first ground being broken at the corner of Broadway and Court street. Work from this point will be continued west to or near the point where the water tower will be located. About twenty men were employed at the start, which were increased to about fifty later in the week.

The carpenter contractors are unable to secure workmen at Machias and a number have been engaged from adjoining towns.

There will be a special meeting of the stockholders of the Maine Shore Line Railroad Company at Calais on Thursday, May 28.

Frank McLaughlin, of Machias, had a narrow escape from a serious accident Wednesday forenoon. While working in the Ames lath mill the trimmer broke and the saw flying struck him in the face, knocking him insensible.

At the adjourned town meeting of Machias last week very little work of any consequence was found necessary. The action of the regular town meeting regarding the increase in the school board was declared illegal and the election declared void. W. W. Bradbury was re-elected to the vacancy caused by the expiration of his term of office. The matter of liquor agency was brought up, but after considerable debate on the subject the action of the previous meeting was allowed to stand. The committee appointed to confer with the railroad contractors in reference to the dyke bridge reported that they had no jurisdiction in the matter.

BEHIND PRISON BARS.

Counterfeiting Munyon's Remedies Two Persons in Prison and More to Follow.

The people will be glad to learn that a great fraud has been exposed, and that a conspiracy to flood the market with counterfeit goods has been nipped in the bud.

All will agree with Professor Munyon that there is no greater crime than palming off worthless medicines on the sick and that no punishment is too severe for imitators and counterfeiters.

For more than a year Professor Munyon has been satisfied that his goods were being juggled with in some fraudulent manner. Suspected employes were discharged, and every measure taken to detect the culprits, but it was not until the last month that he was able to lay his hands on the chief conspirators. He has now in prison one of his former employes and a confederate by the name of C. H. Ferron, alias C. H. Fanola. Ferron, it seems, has been working for more than a year in conjunction with dishonest employes of the Munyon Company. Goods, labels and material were surreptitiously taken from the Munyon Laboratory, pellets were bought by the barrel, a little alcohol was poured upon them and they were placed upon the market as the genuine Munyon Remedies. Fortunately the Munyon Company had taken precaution to have the metal cap which covers their vials stamped with the words "Munyon's Homoeopathic Remedies." This the counterfeiters could not imitate, on account of the great expense and the unwillingness of honest mechanics to make a counterfeit die. As soon as the fraud was discovered the Munyon Company dispatched representatives throughout the country and gathered in all the spurious goods, but Professor Munyon advises all persons who buy the remedies to see that the metal cap is marked "Munyon's Homoeopathic Remedies." Ferron declared when arrested that he was led into this business by a "cutter" in the West, who could not buy Munyon's goods direct and who gave him the money to buy $2,000 worth of remedies, ostensibly to go to Mexico. Seeing how rapidly these goods sold, and finding some willing allies in the employes of the Munyon Company, he embarked in the bogus business. It seems that one dealer in New York alone had bought over $7,000 of these imitation goods. Professor Munyon promises to probe this matter to the bottom, and we sincerely hope that he will be able to bring all parties concerned in this despicable fraud to justice.

Quicker than anything else on earth, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment will reduce inflammation.

Many Women Will Recognize It.

"OH, I am so nervous! No one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my whole body! I honestly think my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so; but I've no cough. I'm so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion horribly. Then I have palpitation, and my heart hurts me. How I am losing flesh! and this headache nearly kills me; and the backache!—why, I had hysterics yesterday!

"There is that weight and bearing down feeling all the time; and there are pains in my groin and thighs. I can't sleep, walk, or sit. I'm diseased all over. The doctor? Oh! he tells me to keep quiet. Such mockery!"

An unhealthy condition of the female organs can produce all the above symptoms in the same person. In fact, there is hardly a part of the body that can escape those sympathetic pains and aches.

No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is positively no need of it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts promptly and thoroughly in such cases, strengthens the muscles, heals all inflammation, and restores the organ to its normal condition. Druggists are selling carloads of it. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., will gladly and freely answer all letters asking for advice.

Mrs. E. Bishop, 1548 Pacific Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., suffered all the above described miseries. Now she is well. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her. Write her about it.

A PROMINENT ACTRESS

Writes: ". . . You cannot imagine the fearful condition I was in when I first wrote to you. I was simply of no use to myself or any one else. I had worked hard, and my nervous system was shattered from female complaints and travelling constantly. I ran the gantlet of doctor's theories, till my health and money were rapidly vanishing. . . . I'm all right now, and am gaining flesh daily. I follow your advice faithfully in everything. Thank you ten thousand times for what your knowledge and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me."

. . . If in doubt, write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. . . .

CITY AND VICINITY.

Maine and New Brunswick lumbermen of long experience say that this is the hardest driving season for thirty years. Of the 120 miles on the St. John river, for instance, it is said that, unless heavy rains set in at once, not much more than half will reach the boom.

The steamer Viking is again on the St. Croix river route. After having been fitted with her new speed propellor at Calais, she speeded to Eastport in two hours and eight minutes. The Viking has since received her finishing touches and is in complete order for summer work.

Robert S. Gardiner, president of the Algonquin Hotel Company, reports that the applications this season for rooms at the hotel are more numerous than ever, and that better rates are being obtained than last season. Summer travel to the St. Croix promises to be larger this season than ever before.

In the State library, there are a number of very valuable works on china painting, including "Keramic Art of Japan," by Audsley & Bowes; "Ceramic Art of Great Britain," and "The Pottery and Porcelain of the United States," by Barber. There is also a very highly prized work on Florentine art, and history, with fine illustrations.

Rev. Father O'Dowd was to depart from Eastport, Monday, for Portland, accompanied by Rt. Rev. Bishop Healy. Saturday Father O'Dowd was presented with an elegant gold watch, on the case of which was engraved the following inscription: "From the Catholic men of Eastport. 1882–1896." The presentation was made by J. D. Anderson, in a neat and appropriate speech, and Father O'Dowd expressed deep feeling in his response.

Returns have been received by the State board of health from about 200 local boards of health, organized this spring. The secretary sends out postals each year, on which the local organizations send in their names. Instructions are also sent for the benefit of the newly appointed boards; with list of some of the circulars published by the State board, on various clinic and hygienic matters, the perusal of which is a matter of great importance to boards that are to do effective work.

The State librarian is sending out Freeman's supplement to the Maine statutes, as fast as the copies are received from the binders, Loring, Short & Harmon, to the city and town clerks. About three-fourths of the entire lot has thus far been disposed of. Mr. Carver says that there has been a great demand for the work, not only from this, but many other States, but owing to the small number received, the distribution has been confined strictly to State, county and town officers. He regards the work as "excellent, and thoroughly reliable, and indispensable to the lawyer."

The Calais laundrymen have combined and placed their business on a cash basis, thus following the custom now established throughout the country. The reasons are given as follows: First, laundry accounts are disproportionate to the cost of collecting them; second, a laundry neither manufactures nor sells merchandise, but is a retailer of labor. It pays cash for its commodity and should get cash in return. The laundries are simply seeking some plan by which they may enforce cash payments with the minimum of annoyance to their patrons.

New Corporations.

The following new corporations representing $7,000,000 capital stock, filed their papers at the secretary of State's office, Saturday:

The Carbon Electric Generator Company organized at Portland for the purpose of generating and producing electrical energy for various purposes, with $5,000,000 capital stock, of which $500 is paid in. The officers are: President, William H. Forbes, of Milton, Mass.; treasurer, W. Cameron Forbes, of Milton, Mass.

The Boston & Rocky Bar Gold Mining and Milling Company, organized at Portland, for the purpose of mining and milling gold, silver and other precious metals, with $1,000,000 capital stock of which $150 is paid in. The officers are: President, Henry F. Strout, of Boston, Mass.; treasurer, Edward C. Ramsdell, of Natick, Mass.

The Globe Match Company, organized at Portland, for the purpose of making matches, and doing general business in the same with $1,000,000 capital stock of which $30, is paid in. The officers are: President, Frank Mead, of Hingham, Mass.; treasurer, George W. Baker, of Weymouth, Mass.

CIRCUS THIS WEEK
True & McVeigh's Show Friday and Saturday

True & McVeigh's circus will appear on the Fair grounds Friday and Saturday, May 29 and 30, afternoon and evening. The Lewiston papers have this to say of True & McVeigh's circus:

True & McVeigh's circus closed its engagement in this city last evening, playing to a large audience. It is perfectly safe to say that no better show than this for the price was ever seen in Maine. The performing dogs, the funny, intelligent goats and the trick horse are first-class, and it is only justice to say that there is not a poor feature about the performance. The circus goes from here to Bath and it should be greeted with large audiences. No one who patronizes the show will be disappointed in seeing a performance that is well worth the price of admission.—Lewiston Sun.

True & McVeigh's circus gave its second evening performance in Lewiston Tuesday evening, and the management was cheered with an audience which put the seating capacity of the large tent to the test.

The Journal has already commented favorably on the excellence of the circus. It is positively one of the best ever seen in Lewiston—and that is saying much, for Lewiston has seen a great many circuses.

Its management is first class and all the appointments of the show are 'way down fine. Everybody was pleased with the performance Tuesday evening. Every number on the programme was carried out and the applause was frequent and hearty. The circus closes its three days' engagement in Lewiston with the performance of this evening. A big house is sure to be on hand for the closing night.—Lewiston Journal.

Nothing New From the Robbery

Chief of Police L. W. Gilman and his officers were diligently engaged yesterday in work upon the safe cracking case at Rice & Miller's Sunday morning, and sifted several reports which they received concerning suspicious people and circumstances, but nothing tangible was discovered, as the robbers covered up their tracks well.

Those who have had experience with safes and who have had occasion to blow them open when the locks were out of order say that an explosion of that kind does not make a very loud noise but has more of the dull, heavy thud about it. Whoever the robbers were it seems pretty evident that they were well acquainted with the store.

Vanceboro News.

Our correspondent writes: Vanceboro was visited by a few small showers last Friday evening but there was not rain enough to be of much use toward putting out the fires that are raging in all directions through this part of Maine and New Brunswick. The house on Water street known as the Roach house and occupied by Mr. Alexander McQuarrie as a dwelling, took fire last Saturday night from the kitchen flume. The fire started about nine o'clock and by half past ten the house was in ashes. The wind was very light at the time and was from the north. If it had been from the south several buildings would have burned.

Mr. McQuarrie was about to move out, and had some of his furniture packed. It is hard to tell just who owned the building or whether there was any insurance on it. Mr. McQuarrie does not know how much he lost, but his loss is considerable. Mrs. McQuarrie thinks all her jewelry was lost, including her wedding ring and gold watch.

The weather is cold for this time of the year. Frost has come several nights during the last two weeks.

Mr. Geo. W. Ross and Mr. James Clarey drove to Calais. They left Vanceboro Sunday afternoon with a span of horses which Mr. Ross expects to dispose of to good advantage in Calais.

ANOTHER SLUMP.

Bangors Ignominiously Defeated by Tail-Enders—Game Full of Poor Plays.

WANTED—Some one with an infallible divining rod to inform the dear public what in four blanks is the matter with the Bangors.

If the desired party, well recommended, will apply to any one of the thousands of base ball enthusiasts in this city he will be received with open arms and be presented a gilt chariot. It really passeth comprehension. The Bangor team is on the slide sure 'nough and it does seem as though the bottom must be reached by this time. Tail-enders in a league are something like the northerly end of a mule—rather dangerous to fool with So the Bangors found yesterday when the Lewistons played tag with us to the tune of 12 to 2

The Lewistons have been nicknamed the "undertakers" They did a neat job in their line of business here About 600 people witnessed the slaughter, or a portion of it, for many left before the agony was over. Bangor wasn't in the game for a minute, and the game put up by the home team would be a disgrace to a good high school nine. They didn't play with any life, ran bases like kids, fumbled the ball, etc , to the end of the miserable chapter. The score doesn't give a very good idea of the stupid work

A few examples will give an idea of the hypnotic state of somnambulism in which the Bangors were plunged In the first inning with Radford on second and Sharrott at the bat, the latter tried to place a hit to right field, but put up instead a weak little pop fly to Goodhart Radford started for third and was of course easily doubled at second

Then in the second inning Henry was hit by a pitched ball and took second and third on O'Brien's single The throw in from the field was a poor one and somebody yelled for O Brien, it is supposed, to take second, but Henry thought they meant him, so in he ran and was easily caught between home and third

Henry danced around to give O Brien time to get safely on third before he gave up the ghost, but O'Brien stayed on second very much to the surprise of everybody and Henry was soon put out In the sixth Lippert put up a high fly which Sharrott made a good try for He didn't get the ball and it rolled toward second base with no one trying to get it, allowing it to roll along. Meanwhile Lippert was just a-climbing for second and he got there, Radford waiting, only waiting, for the ball to come to him Pretty work These were the most glaring foolishnesses, except the fumbles of Radford and G Moore

Wielhoff had to do about all to be done to retire the side He pitched good ball and the hits they made off him should have been reduced quite a number, as several hits were made after chances had been given to retire the side In spite of the discouraging conditions, however, Wielhoff did not let up for a moment, but kept his gait and pitched fully as well, if not better, at the last than the first. That did him great credit The crowd was with him and applauded him well. Simon did fine work in the field, Henry made a brilliant catch and Sharrott some lively base running

For the visitors Williams pitched finely as regards results but people wondered how it was that he was not batted all over the lot. He threw up a tantalizingly slow ball which looked easy, but our team were not out for batting evidently. Williams' exhibition was a fine one. He was cool and had the air of "oh, this is too easy " His indifference was maddening, almost. He seemed to have a deep contempt for our batters Perhaps he was not to blame Lippert is a wonder on bases He stole second and third with impunity, getting a great lead each time. Messitt was not far behind, stealing second three times. Pettee batted terrifically and made a fine catch and Williams got in his usual three bagger

Lippert has a voice like a double condensed fog horn and the crowd's imitations of his Polar bear growls caused much amusement It was the only chance we had to laugh so we took advantage of that Lippert is good natured and enjoyed it.

Hunt was umpire, new here. He keeps things going splendidly and looks right after matters. He had an easy game to umpire and little fault was found. We like his way of always being master of the field. He was entirely impartial yesterday The score

Game To-day.

This afternoon the Lewiston undertakers will again undertake to defeat the Bangors, but we venture to hope that they will get left. Brace up, Bangors, and at 'em. Just show us that you are the liveliest fighters on the turf.

Notes.

Manager Long appeared in uniform yesterday and went on the coaching lines. He has a pretty pair of calves and looks well on the field but with all due respect to him we think he had better remain on the bench and let some one with a good, strong voice get out and put some life into the game. We lack snap as a general thing. Once in a while Ned Hayes, Sharrott, Henry and Bobby Moore get a-going well and they ought to be on deck all the time. They are the best coachers and should be on the lines whenever it is possible. We like the interest Manager Long takes to get into uniform and go out to coach but he hasn't the voice, while some others have. Put out the good howlers, Mr. Manager.

It seems to us that we need Hayes' batting. Roach is a fine catcher, a quick, willing player, a hard worker and a good batter, but Hayes has been a terrific hitter and batting is what the Bangor team needs now. As a backstop Hayes has few superiors and he steadies the team when he is in it. He ought to be worked every other day at least. People are always glad to see him in the game. Roach is also a firm favorite here. Hayes says his arm is all right now and everybody knows what magnificent work he did for us all last year and in '94.

Bicycles can now be checked in the rear of the new portion of the grand stand during the ball games and the convenience will be appreciated by many patrons of the game.

M. S. C. and Bowdoin will play the second game at Brunswick tomorrow.

BOARD OF TRADE
Regular Meeting Monday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held Monday evening at 7 30 with President C. S. Pearl in the chair. The records of the last meeting were read by Secretary E M. Blanding and they were approved.

Messrs. E. M. Blanding and George A. Cleveland, of the committee on fish hatchery for Bangor, reported progress. The committee have found what they believe to be suitable waters in this vicinity and they will be given a hearing before the State fish and game commissioners at an early date. The Penobscot valley is an important section of the State and it is desirable that a hatchery be established in the vicinity of Bangor

A communication was read from Secretary F. Stone, secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, regarding bills now pending in Congress to amend the inter state commerce law It was voted by the Bangor Board of Trade to refer the matter to its committee on transportation.

Secretary Blanding touched upon the importance to our locality of the Eastern Maine State Fair, and urged that business men should co-operate as far as possible to make it a success Our manufacturers and merchants should take greater interest than they have in the past, and should aid in all ways the energetic officers of the Fair to make it a grand success in all particulars

Hon Henry Lord suggested the desirability of omitting regular meetings during the summer months, and a motion to that effect was carried. Special meetings will, however, be called when occasion requires, and the rooms will be left open to members and visitors during business hours the same as in the past

The meeting was then adjourned

Foreign Physicians in England.

A curious point of considerable interest to the medical profession was raised before Mr Shell, the Westminster magistrate, when Mr Hempson solicitor for the Medical Defense union applied for a summons against a gentleman who was practicing as a doctor at Chelsea This individual announced himself as an M D U S A , and the question arose whether such a title could be recognized in London Is it necessary," asked Mr Shell for a physician or an M D to be registered here? Yes' replied Mr Hempson 'All who practice in this country ought to be registered I have a medical register here, which does not contain his name and I believe that this particular person goes about the streets abusing the profession generally and also hospitals

A long discussion then arose on the point whether the man was compelled to register himself in this country Suppose he turns out to be a doctor suggested Mr Shell Then I am prepared to put up with the consequences of my action against him replied Mr Hempson Moreover I produce the medical register which does not contain his name I am not satisfied the magistrate said ' You must get additional evidence You ought to consult a barrister We have here the advice of Mr Muir Mackenzie You see,' said Mr Shell authoritatively you do not prove that this man is not a doctor and therefore I must refuse a summons

This decision at once brings to an issue the question whether foreign medical degrees, no matter by whom conferred—even admitting that the person against whom the application is made is qualified in his own province—are valid for the health and well being of the community The old stock phrase that such practitioners only add to the practice of our own doctors might not weigh against the safety of the humblest of her majesty's lieges —London Telegraph

No Counterfeits Allowed

A very delicate legal question as to the right of a citizen to have counterfeit money in his possession for the purpose of conducting a legitimate business has arisen in the case of the firm of Dickerman & Holler, publishers in this city of a periodical devoted to the description of counterfeit bank notes

Mr Dickerman was recently arrested in Philadelphia charged with violation of a federal statute which prevents the holding of any facsimiles of currency issued by the government Mr Dickerman proved conclusively and to the complete satisfaction of the officers who made the arrest that the counterfeit money he had was in his possession for no ulterior purpose but on the contrary was held for the purpose of warning the public and preventing the general circulation of bogus currency

It is part of Mr Dickerman's business to visit banks and bankers and explain to them in person how new counterfeits may be detected In order to do this he is obliged to get hold of a counterfeit at once and make a thorough examination of it He has always been careful not to permit any of this bogus money to get out of his possession and there was not the slightest danger of it getting into circulation He had quite a collection of these notes and they formed part of his stock in trade and were certainly personal property Nevertheless the government agents confiscated them and destroyed them —New York Mail and Express

An Insulted Author

There is a struggling young author in Washington who had the misfortune to have a book published and the additional misfortune of never being able to sell the second one to any publisher

A friend of his told him that what he needed was advice from those who made money out of their work and a friend of his in New York recently disclosed to him that he was getting $10,000 a year from his writings

The two were brought together at the house of a mutual friend and the following conversation was overheard

"I am very glad to meet you," said the young man "Advice from such a successful author would be invaluable to me."

"I will be glad to help you with any suggestions I can make," was the gracious reply

"What class of books do you find pay the best?"

"Bank books, sir," was the response in a tone of great disgust "Why don't you write books? Any man who writes a book that way ought to be ... I write advertisements, sir, for some of the largest houses in the country." But the author of books stood aghast and the indignant author left the room.—Washington Star

Poets of England

There are at the present time three English poets each of whom has passed his eightieth year and is still writing. The first is ... Tennyson's ... Alfred ... a greater poet than his brother Alfred ... Aubrey de Vere, whose father Sir Aubrey de Vere was a friend of Wordsworth, and whose poetry is in some sense a reflection of the Lake poets. He has written largely on Roman Catholic subjects but his work has been better adapted for a small circle than for the multitude. The third is Mr Philip James Bailey, who 60 years ago was famous as the author of Festus ... over board ... Tennyson out of sight —Boston Herald
